BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLES UNION CONVENTION HERE

Over 200 Delegates Expected to Attend
Convention of Southeastern District
Nov. 12-13-14-Will Find We come

What promises to be an event of more than passing interest is the annual convention of the Baptist Young People's Union, Southeastern District, in Dothan at the First Baptist church, November 12, 13, and 14.

The two local unions of the First Baptist and the Headland Avenue churches have been making preparations for the entertainment of some two hundred delegates or more who are expected to attend. Every indication is that the occasion will be one of great moment to the young people. Bob Crawford and Eddie Woods, with the aid of local pastors, were largely responsible in extending the invitation and bringing this representation of young people to the city. About twenty-five unions, located southeast of Montgomery, will send delegates who will be entertained in Dothan homes.

The program committee is now busy arranging an excellent pro-without embarrassment. The young folks are also trained to assist the pastors and otherwise help carry on the work of the church.

MILCHER'S MARKET MOVED DOWN TOWN

Frank Pilcher has moved his market down town, and fitted up a building on East Main street, with a thoroughly sanitary market, that looks as neat as one might wish. He and Mrs. Pilcher stay on the job all the time and have been making a success of the market business, and they expect a better business since moving down in the business district.

HUSBAND MAKES ARRANGEMENTS FOR WIFE TO MARRY CHUM

MRS. HOWARD M. HUGGINS

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—A new phase of the eternal triangle has been revealed here by the marriage of Mrs. Elita G. Herrman, to Howard M. Huggins. The beautiful Elita Cooper, a society girl of San Jose, was married to Frank Herrman, a civil engineer and society man of the same place in 1905, but after eight years of happiness Mrs. Herrman told her husband that she no longer loved him, it is said, and that she wished her freedom so that she might marry Howard Huggins, an old sweetheart of hers and a close friend of her husband.

The story goes that Herrman called his friend Huggins to his home, told him that Mrs. Herrman was in love with him and that he would arrange for a divorce. The divorce was granted in August, 1914, on grounds of willful desertion.

Shortly afterwards Herrman, his divorced wife and Huggins were seen together frequently.

Two weeks before the marriage here a few days ago, the three met on the golf links at the San Jose Country Club and played golf together. At that time, it is said, the arrangements for the wedding of Mr. Huggins and Mrs. Herrman was arranged.

Herrman was invited to the wedding, but missed his train.

Friends are now wondering if Herrman will be a steady caller at the home of his ex-wife and crowd his friend.

This interesting picture of Miss Edith Cavell and her two dogs was made in Brussels a few days before her arrest and subsequent execution as a spy at the hands of the German authorities.

On Friday a monster memorial service in honor of Miss Cavell was held in famous St. Paul's, London, and was attended by many notables, including the Queen Mother Alexandra, several members of the diplomatic corps and the cabinet, and 600 London nurses who occupied front seats at the service. King George and Queen Mary sent personal representatives.

Geneva Aroused By Assault on Pastor

T. B. Early Assaults Pastor of Baptist Church With Loaded Stick

Geneva, Ala., Nov. 2.—T. B. Early was fined $50 in mayor's court here this evening for an assault upon Rev. W. E. Fendley, pastor of the First Baptist church of Geneva.

The trouble grew out of the fact that Mr. Fendley contributed a column of reading matter to the Geneva County Reaper each week. Writing on "Sub-bath Description he used language that offended Early, so Mr. Early with a stick (that was said to be loaded) waited by the wayside for Mr. Fendley and struck him, twice. Early took an appeal to the circuit court. Sentiment is at heat.

Mr. Alford Jones of Jellico was a city visitor today.

Nathan Straus Is Dead at New Orleans

New Orleans, La., Nov. 2.—Nathan Straus, widely known throughout the South for his activity in Jewish philanthropic work, died at his home here today after an illness of several months. Mr. Straus during the last twenty-six years had been grand secretary of District Grand Lodge B'Nai B'Rith, which has jurisdiction throughout eight Southern States and Porto Rico.

During the war between the States Mr. Straus served in the Confederate army and at different periods was adjutant on the staffs of Generals Miller and Braxton Bragg.

The McKenzie building on North St. Andrews street, which was formerly occupied by the Pep-To-Lac Bottling Company, is being remodeled.

CLAIMS MAN SHOT AT HIM

Mack Johnson, of Kinsey, Charged with Shooting from Behind Fodder Stack. White Brings Charges.

Charged with assault with intent to murder, Mack Johnson, of Kinsey, has been arrested by Warden Grady Granger and incarcerated in the county jail.

A warrant was sworn out for Johnson by a man named White, who claimed that some time last night Johnson hid behind a fodder stack, and fired at him (White) five times with a revolver, all the bullets going wild. The cause of the mixup could not be learned.

Warden Granger says that Johnson claims he is innocent and that he did not fire at White.

Telegraph Service For Bay Line Road

Disagreement Between Companies Settled and Wires Will Be Strung.

The disagreement between the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Atlanta & St. Andrews Bay Railroad has been settled, according to information received today, and telegraph wires will again be strung along side the "Bay Line" tracks on the telegraph service will be resumed.

Work of stringing the wires and installing the instrument and apparatus will be started in a few days, it is understood, and direct communication with Panama City, Fla., and other Bay points by telegraph will have been established.

Had Disagreement.

A few months ago, when the Bay Line was under its old management, the officials of that road and the Western Union Telegraph Company officials had a disagreement over some business matters relating to the telegraph service. The result was that the Western Union sent linemen down the track, had some of the wires removed, and the telegraph instruments taken out. Since that time there has been no communication down the Bay Line route by telegraph.

The public, and especially the smaller towns located on the line of the Atlanta & St. Andrews Bay Railway will no doubt receive with pleasure the news of the contemplated resumption of the service.

Compliments Official.

Feagin

Urges Consolidation of Rural Schools.

On Way to Attend
Hartford Institute.

Five Dothan Schools
But Expensive.

Preaching the doctrine of consolidated rural schools to all with whom he talked, W. F. Feagin, of Montgomery, state superintendent of education, was in Dothan this morning, en route to Hartford where he will attend the teachers institute for Geneva county. This institute will be in session Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Mr. Feagin discussed the recent educational laws passed in Alabama, which he believes are a step in the right direction. He urged consolidated schools, and more teachers for the county schools.

Mr. Feagin was asked about the transportation problem in sections where the consolidated school idea is carried out, and he said that each community had to solve its own transportation difficulties. In some sections of the west and east large wagons, very much on the order of the jitney bus, make round trips morning and evening, the pupils and take them to school, and bring them back to their homes when the day's work is finished.

Mr. Feagin called attention to the fact that teachers institutes are held most any time of the year now, while according to the old way they were held during the summer months.

The state superintendent also favors moonlight schools for adults as this plan enables many grown-ups to receive an education.

"You have a fine school system here," said Mr. Feagin, but he called attention to the expense.

Mr. T. B. Williams has opened an insurance and loan office in the Young building. He represents the Missouri Fire Life Insurance Company of St. Louis and will also make long term loans at low interest rates on Alabama farm lands. His office is in the Young building. This country is on a Ford jag.

Think you that the sum total of good and evil has changed any in a thousand years?

Francis X. Bushman, the idol of the female movie fiend, is what we'd call a real sweet man.

Since the cool nights have come the hard holders union has called off the outside free acts.

Marriages are made in heaven but divorces are made on earth by a representative of another nation.

Sherman didn't express the horrors of war. It is expressed now by saying that war is Germanic.

You'll never miss the water even after the well runs dry if you are used to drinking something else and can get it.

"Throw physic to the dogs" advised Shakespeare. A better plan would be to sell the physic and pay the dog's tax.

Less than a year until they'll be warming up for the 1916 presidential race and the Colonel hasn't even gone into training yet.

Wonder if the better babies movement wasn't started by a couple who couldn't get board because they had children that always run in high gear with the muffler cut out.

WHAT SHALL WE RAISE?

Well, if we don't raise cotton for a money crop, what will we raise? That's a common question.

That reminds us of a one-horse farmer we saw on the streets of Dothan this week, with a jersey wagon load of canned syrup. He lives near Graceville, and brought 75 gallons of fresh syrup to town, and when we struck him, he had sold all of it but two gallons, at 50c a gallon.

That syrup, mind you, wasn't put up in an old barrel, which would make the syrup sour right off, but it was put up in clean tin, with airtight covers, and it will keep fresh and sweet during the hot summer months, and the price that was reasonable.

That farmer probably will bring another lot to Dothan, since he found that so new syrup could be sold here. This is late for new syrup to be coming in.

There's a whole lot in producing from products for the market, and all have how to do it.

all. We don't know that to get the highest price for corn, that it should be selected, all the best grades put in one lot, and the poorer grades in another, and shelled, sacked in good sacks of a uniform size. Oats the same way, peas the same, and in fact everything else that is sold from a farm should be selected with care and put up in proper shape for the merchants to handle easiest.

The wholesale grocers here have trouble in buying Irish potatoes, because they can rarely buy the home crop and get them properly sacked and assorted. All of which is necessary to get a good price for them.

As the boll weevil cuts the crop down, and as the farmer branches out into other lines of industry—planting other things for the market, it would be a good idea to hear these things in mind.

Not everybody could sell their syrup in Dothan, but if syrup was properly canned it would sell in any market, for there isn't a better grade of syrup on earth than is made, and can be made, in Houston county.

GET CLOSE TO THE FARMER

In running a fair in Dothan, we mustn't forget that the success depends almost entirely upon the farmer. Then we should get close to him.

If we hold a fair each year and it makes a little money to the stockholders, and doesn't improve farm conditions, we haven't done so much as we should.

It has been suggested by one of Dothan's live merchants, that it would be a good idea to give a pretty fair cash prize for best decorated farm wagon, filled with the greatest variety of home grown truck, pulled by the best pair of mules, or horses, which had made a crop that year. That would be interesting.

If we had a parade of farm wagons on Monday, or Tuesday, of say seventy-five or a hundred, it would be a sight good for sore eyes, and an inspiration to other farmers. That alone, would be a good advertisement. If one man in one community got up a good exhibit, and won first prize, it would be instructive and interesting to his neighbors, and another year, they would try the competition.

By that method, Houston county, and the territory outlying Dothan would begin a new era in agriculture.

There ought to be more effort made on the part of the business men of Dothan to get farmers to come in year to plant something for a money crop outside of cotton.

Take the wholesale houses; they might offer a premium to the farmer who produced the biggest Irish potato crop; another for sweet potatoes and still another for field peas. All this stuff can be handled by the grocery houses, and they would be glad to buy at home. Then the various merchants in other lines should offer premiums for the greatest production on a single acre of land, planted in various farm products. It would pay us all in the end, and especially the farmer. When he is well paid, we are all in clover. The banks shouldn't be overlooked, for every banking institution is very closely allied with the farming interest.

Put a little more of the personal touch in it.

Something should be awarded to the farmer who makes the greatest intelligent effort to destroy the boll weevil the coming year.

MAKING THE WEEVIL ANXIOUS.

As the Albany Herald says: "Southwest Georgia can raise so many profitable crops the boll weevil cannot injure that this tribe must feel discouraged when it considers the matter." But he is showing no discouragement, is he? Not at all. He is very busy decouraging the cotton Southwest Georgia has provided for him so plentifully. He has no time to "consider," but only to eat. It is not denied that Southwest Georgia can raise many profitable, varied crops; but so long as cotton is plentiful and farmers generally fail to follow all the best approved methods of raising cotton in spite of him, the weevil will not be discouraged. There is a great deal of difference between saying that section of Georgia "can raise" many profitable crops other than cotton, and that it "is raising" them.

Still, everybody knows that Southwest Georgia, like all the best of South Georgia, is growing some fine crops other than cotton. South Georgia must do that, and also its farmers must in everything they can to grow a good crop of cotton in defiance of the most courageous tribe of boll weevils that ever existed. They must grow plenty of food and feed crops, plenty of hay or cattle, and grow cotton, too. If they do all of this the weevil will have good reason to be discouraged and will have to "consider the matter," which he evidently is not doing right now with any very apparent dread of the future.—Savannah News.

More freight cars are needed, and steamers are taxed to capacity.

People are living better, and spending their money more freely.

This country has the best money in the world, and more of it than ever before.

Such a combination of favorable circumstances never has occurred before, and probably will never occur again.

Billions of dollars are passing over the merchants' counters.

The people who spend this money want the best service.

They demand it in all kinds of stores, from the smallest to the largest.

They get it in stores which use our up-to-date Cash Registers, which quicken service, stop mistakes, satisfy customers, and increase profits.

Over a million merchants have proved our Cash Registers to be a business necessity.

NEW STUDEBAKER CARS ARRIVE TODAY

SALES FAR OUTNUMBER

Unable to Supply Enough Stude-

Murphy.

Charles Murphy of the Dothan Foundry and Machine Company, is figuring on how he can deliver four new Studebaker cars to-about ten or eleven eager buyers and still be able to keep out of trouble.

The new Studebaker cars, which arrived and were unloaded today, consist of both the fours and sixes and have proven so popular among buyers who have gone the rounds of the season's offerings that keeping the deliveries up to the sale seems quite a job.

"The business of the Dothan Foundry & Machine Company has increased over 100 per cent over this time last year," said Mr. Murphy. "Our business is better than at any time in the history of the firm and I feel sure that it's high point has not yet been reached. We are selling all the Studebaker and Oakland cars we can get hold of and our only trouble is to get the factory to ship them fast enough to accommodate those who want them.
We are also keeping a large force busy in our repair department and we are doing a record breaking business.

hard times it is impossible for me to realize it. I have my doubts about any more hard time talk being circulated and I feel sure that we will have an era of

Chas. Murphy, Mgr.

And the price is $1050, remember. $1050 for a 50
horse power car!

Never before in the history of the automobile industry has so powerful a car been priced so low. It is the most powerful 6-cylinder car ever built for its weight. The new motor has a 3-inch stroke and a 3 1/2 inch bore and exhibits many important improvements in design that make it a wonder to drive. It's the snappiest, most responsive and smoothest running motor you ever set back of.

And we are eager to have you come in and see the car and ride in it.
For you can never appreciate how good that new motor is until you have had your own hands on the wheel—and taken the car up a hill or thru a stretch of rough going.

So come in. But—don't expect a "Little Six" built to fit that price of $1050. This 1916 Studebaker Six is a big, roomy, handsome, 7-passenger 122-inch wheel base car, and yet it is not heavy! And with even higher quality than ever.

WIVES AND MOTHERS

Have you ever stopped to realize how much the health of your family depends upon you?
For instance, diet is a great factor in health, and you are responsible for it, then again when any member of your family gets into a run-down condition, when the children are delicate, cross and ailing, when somebody takes cold and develops a cough, they look to you for help. Do you know that our local druggist, N. H. McCallum, has a non-secret constitutional remedy known as Vital which he guarantees for just such conditions. Many families in this vicinity have found it so reliable they are never without it. 11

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed in to a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin.
Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly.
You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this thru your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

KEYTON SCHOOL NOTES

The first month of our school has been pleasant indeed. We opened on the fourth of October with twenty-eight pupils and closed our first month with an enrollment of fifty-two.

We have raised some money for the purpose of seating our house and putting in a pipe well. Everybody seems to be catching the educational spirit and are striving to give the children of this community as good chance as children of other communities are getting. Why should they not have? We went to the fair about forty strong and every one enjoyed it fine.

We are to begin an adult class Monday night for the purpose of reaching the grown up people of the district who cannot read and write.

We will observe November 5 as Better Farming Day.

Our trustees are co-operating with us nicely this year in raising money for making the necessary improvements. The patrons are also responding nicely to the demands made upon them.

The patrons who have visited us during the month were J. H. Halstead, Wesley Varnum, J. L.

ELEPHANT AND LION FIGHT

Exciting Time at Robinson's Winter Quarters.

Among the wild animals brought from Africa by the Robinson expedition was a full grown forest bred lion of enormous size and strength. He was confined in an ordinary lion cage at the winter home of Robinson's Famous Shows. The cages of the various species were arranged around the sides of the animal house while in the center were corralled the elephants.

The lion soon proved that he was too powerful for any ordinary cage as strongly as they are built. He bent the iron bars aside and leaped onto the back of old Ding, one of the largest elephants in the Robinson herd. With a roar like thunder he sank his teeth into the tough hide of the elephant pulling and jerking viciously. Taken entirely by surprise Ding trumpeted wildly and endeavored to break his chains. Failing in this he turned his attention to the lion. Winding his powerful trunk around the lion's body he pulled him loose from his hold, slammed him on the ground and attempted to task him. But the lion grabbed into the elephant's throat and fastened the fangs deep into the flesh.

Ding thrashed and roared and all the other animals joined in the unearthly chorus, and pandemonium ruled.

For a moment the keepers were unnerved at the fearful spectacle but not long. Procuring a chain they made a slip noose at one end and attached the other end to a rope and fall that hung from aloft. At the risk of their lives they placed the chain around the lion's body, back of the forearms. Hoisting away they soon had the fierce king of beasts swinging high in the air snarling twisting biting at the chain making a sight that made the blood run cold. The keepers then swung him to the door of another den, pushed him inside and confined him securely.

This big lion "Ruffo" is now one of the most perfect specimens with the Robinson's Famous Shows and will be on exhibition here on November 6.

David L. C. Davis, A. J. Carroll, G. J. Spivey, Sam Spivey, Mr. Langley and possibly some others.

We extend invitations to all to come again.

Will give the names of pupils on honor roll next week.

BACK IN GRADED SCHOOL WITH STRING OF COLLEGE DEGREES

DAVID SPENCE HILL

New Orleans, Nov. 2.—David Spence Hill, B. A., Ph. D., Fellow A. A. A. S., noted psychologist, monographist and a few other things is "going to school" again sitting side by side with Tommy Jones and Willie Smith in the lowest grades in the New Orleans public schools and spelling "cat" and "dog" like the rest of the little fellows just embarking upon the sea of education.

Of course Mr. Hill's purpose in going into the lower grades is a student is not primarily to learn how to spell "cat" and "dog" and "rat" but he is seeking to learn just how the 1,800 New Orleans teachers instill knowledge into the youngsters in their care.

He is a Harvard man and former president of Psychology at Tulane University, New Orleans, but now he is the head of the New Orleans Department of Educational Research. He adopted the method of being a student in the grades in order to gather first hand information which he hopes will lead to improvement in teaching methods.

While attending school Dr. Hill is observing all the rules—reporting at 9 a. m. promptly reciting his lessons when called upon and taking his turn at the three R's in the various classes. If he is tardy he has to tender an excuse just like the other pupils.

VELVET BEANS ALONE

B. H. Baker, of Jacobs, Fla., is a big farmer. He has prepared for the boll weevil. He planted 100 acres in corn, and velvet beans together and the crop of beans has averaged 18 bushels to the acre, which he has sold under contract for $2.25 per bushel. That is a clean pick up of about $4,000 after making just as much corn as he would without the beans, and his land is in much better condition for having the beans on it.

The farmers should now begin saving their beans, for seed will be high, possibly $5 a bushel next spring.

Another thing, every farmer should have all the seed cane possible, for another year there is likely to be a syrup refinery in this territory and the surplus cane can be handled to advantage.

City Clerk R. W. Lisenby is improving rapidly.

SOME AFFECTATIONS

(By Walt Mason in the Emporia Kan., Gazette.)

"Our new neighbor, Mrs. Jampton-Jones, is a woman of distinguished appearance," observed Mrs. Jamesworthy, "and I think she'll be quite an acquisition."

"Speaking for myself, I have no confidence in a woman who strings two or three names together with hyphens between them," said Jamesworthy. "Mrs. Jampton-Jones may be all wool and a yard wide, and guaranteed not to fade in the washing, but her arrangement of plain and fancy names gives me a sympatized pain in my left shoulder blade.

"The name Jampton is somewhat beautiful, when taken by itself. It's a good, reliable name in single harness, and any lady or child can drive it. The name Jones has braved a thousand years, the battle and the breeze. There is no nobler name, Mrs. Jamesworthy. There have been heroes and statesmen bearing it, and it will ring in the corridors of fame until the end of time. Jones is one name that age can't wither nor custom fade. It is bound by a thousand ties to my heart, as the poet said. What a desecration it is to take this grand old name and hitch it double with another! Both are ruined thereby.

"There is something radically wrong with the head of any person who tries to gain distinction by revising the time-honored names downward. The new neighbor may have many admirable qualities of mind and heart but there is a single loose on her capitol or she wouldn't wear a string of names when one will do well enough. What are names for, Mrs. Jamesworthy? Merely to distinguish one delegate from another. They were not invented for the purpose of attracting the attention of the grandstand. A given name and a surname are all anybody requires, and they should be as short as possible. Much valuable time is wasted pronouncing names which have been strung out to an unreasonable length. More time is wasted writing them. I have a correspondent named Featherstonebaugh, and every time I have to write that name I get mad, and wish our legislature would do something.

"The older I grow, the less use I have for affectations of all kinds. The other day I was introduced to an eminent musician. He is a man who can pull down a large bundle any time he is requested to appear on the concert platform. He is known from Ypsilanti to Yuba Dam. It was a genuine refreshment to shake hands with such a man, and run my fingers over his upper vest pocket to see if he had an extra cigar.

"His hair was cut quite close to his head, and he had no tangled, soiled whiskers. He wore an ordinary black necktie that probably cost forty cents at the haberdasher's. He wore also an ordinary business suit and a stiff hat. You'd have taken him anywhere for a prosperous auctioneer or real-estate dealer. Yet he was one of the most distinguished musicians in this country.

"An hour later I met a dinky professor who gets fifty cents a lesson for teaching people how to rip harmony up the back. He was all covered with star-banded whiskers, and he had a flowing tie, and a coat with a bell around it, and his hair was so long that everybody wondered why he didn't quit music and get a job selling some reliable hair restorer.

"The cheap skate who never was more than three jumps ahead of the sheriff goes around flashing a big roll of one-dollar bills, and clanking with brass chains and plate glass jewelry. The man who could buy this town up and still have money enough to purchase a few railroads, has to dig through all his pockets to find a nickel to pay the bootblack. I haven't any use for the eccentricities of four fashers, and your Mrs. Jampton-Jones won't make a bit with me."

GET YOU A FARM FOR 1916
Surely there never was such an opportunity to make money farming as we have today. Fifty years of all cotton farming left 75 per cent of the farms under long loan, and when the boll weevil gave us a jolt that opened our eyes and showed us what we could do. This past year has been in the nature of a demonstration,—1916 will see a fuller fruition. Five years ago who would have dreamed of the following:

VELVET BEANS.

Jacobs, Fla., Oct. 27, 1915.

Smith & Morgan.

Gentlemen: Replying to yours, beg to say I planted 100 acres in the white Chinese velvet bean, will make about an average of 18 bushels per acre, and I have 1700 bushels contracted for at $2.25 per bushel f. o. b. Jacobs. Corn is just as good where beans are planted.

Yours truly,

(Signed) B. H. BAKER.

In other words Mr. Baker makes about $4,000 clear on 100 acre beans besides his corn crop and fertilizing his land with the nitrogen the bean deposits in the soil.

MARKETS FOR NEXT YEAR. READ THE FOLLOWING FROM HON. EMMET A. JONES.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 28, 1915.

Smith & Morgan.

Gentlemen: Your favor received. Our recent investigations show that there will be at all times a lively demand for velvet beans. It is estimated that the aggregate requirements of the sugar plantations of Louisiana will be more peas and velvet beans than Alabama can produce. Under the circumstances I think your farmers would be perfectly safe in planting a large acreage in these two crops next year.

Very truly,

(Signed) EMMET A. JONES.

PEANUTS.

Read and Save Seed Peanuts.

Enterprise, Ala., Oct. 29, 1915.

Smith & Morgan.

Gentlemen: Replying to your favor, beg to advise that I had two men hopelessly in debt first of the year and thought would try them on peanuts. One of the men with three mules planted 100 acres in peanuts, will gather about 6,000 bushels, in addition will have over 1,000 bushels of corn, and 100 head of hogs. He was in debt to me January 1st about $2600; will pay out and have nearly $2000 to put in bank. The other man did nearly as well.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) H. M. SESSIONS.

The Barndart Mercantile Company with five big peanut factories in the South, buy the crops produced in Louisiana and Mississippi, and advise that they will purchase all the White Spanish peanuts we can produce if handled properly. In addition many of the cotton seed oil mills of the South are beginning to handle them. We understand the mill at Madrid is preparing to handle them next year and perhaps one of the mills in Dothan will follow suit. In addition, Peanut fed hogs are now in great favor with the packing plant. You can turn your peanuts into packing house hogs. The following letter is from a farmer who does not owe anybody, and who plants very little cotton:

Crosby, Ala., Oct. 28th, 1915.

Smith & Morgan.

Gentlemen: I expect to be in Dothan and will see you soon. I have put in a dipping vat, have all my cattle about 70 head,—in fine shape, not a tick to be seen. I also dip all my hogs. I only planted about 16 acres of cotton; have plenty of corn, velvet beans, potatoes, peas, soy and sugar cane. These, with hogs and cattle, beats the cotton business.

Yours truly,

(Signed) W. W. EDDINS.

SYRUP.

We are not at liberty to give out the details, but in all probability there will be a syrup refinery in operation here a year from now. In addition read the following:

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 16, 1915.

Smith & Morgan.

Gentlemen: Replying to your favor, beg to say we are in the market for syrup put up in 33 to 35 gallon barrels. We are willing to buy all the syrup your section can produce at the market price. We do not believe your farmers would make a mistake in planting very heavily on cane.

Very truly,

(Signed) Alabama-Georgia Syrup Co.

SWEET POTATOES.

This is destined to be one of our best crops. We have some information we will give out personally which we haven't space for here. You can sell your potatoes at a big price during July and August, and then dry them in the small potato drying houses and save them until the following spring and sell them again at a big price. Mr. Harvey Forrester advises us that he has used one of these little houses two years, that it cost him only about $20.00, and he has not lost one bushel out of a hundred.

THE OPPORTUNITY IS BEFORE YOU.

Every one should own a small farm. If you are a traveling man, merchant, doctor, lawyer, clerk, no matter you may lose your position, your health, business may be dull, old age, and other things, make it advisable to have and own a small farm you can fall back on.

WE ARE NOW PROBABLY AT THE TURNING OF THE TIDE. IT IS A TIME TO BUY.

Mr. J. F. Frasier of Choudrant, La., writes us as follows:

We have had the weevils here 8 years. We make some cotton but make more money on Spanish peanuts than on cotton at 12 cents. Owing to changes we have made the farmer's financial condition has improved, lands have about doubled in value, caused by improving farms, building better barns, etc. Diversified farming did it.

WE HAVE HOUSTON COUNTY FARMS FOR SALE.

35 acre farm near town, on public road, only takes $175.00 cash, balance long loans. Fine 75 acre farm six miles west of town, nice painted dwelling, land nearly all stumped, running water, low price, or can handle good. Dothan property in exchange. 80 acre farm few miles west of Dothan, 60 acres in cultivation at $15.00 per acre. Forty acres three miles out on graded Campbellton road, can exchange for desirable city property. Fine 300 acre farm near Hedgesville, on railroad, at $13.50 per acre, long loan and liberal terms on balance. 240 acre farm near Madrid, fine land and improvements, good houses, two dwellings, 175 acres in cultivation, $500.00 cash, long loan and ten years on balance. 195 acres on West Main street close to city limits at $35.00 per acre. 100 acre farm close to city limits, good land, $1,000 cash, six years on balance.

We have many other desirable propositions. If you are interested in any way see us at once.

THE TEST

The test of the man is the flight he makes.
The gift that he daily shows:
The way that he stands on his feet and takes Face's numerous bumps and blows.
A coward can smile when there's naught to fear;
When nothing his program bars.
But it takes a man to stand up and cheer
While some other fellow stars.
It isn't victory after all
But fight that a brother makes.
The man who is driven against the wall,
Who still stands erect and takes
The blows off fate with his head held high,
Bleeding and bruised and pale,
Is the man who'll win in the by and by.
For he isn't afraid to fall.
It's the bumps you get and the joins you get,
And the blows that your courage stands.
The house of sorrow and vain regret,
The pain that corrupts your heart,
That you must battle and prove
The man who shows you deal,
The man who takes on the world,
The man who is real,
The man who is free from

The home was most attractively arranged, beautiful chrysanthemums, cosmos and a profusion of graceful fern, making a fitting setting for this bevy of beautiful girls.

Three tables were conveniently placed and a very interesting game of Bridge was enjoyed until a late hour.

A delicious two-course luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Miss Sue Stapleton.

The fortunate guests were: The honoree, Miss Louise Liddon, Miss Elsa Mae Roland, Miss Janie Farmer, Miss Florrie Malone, Miss Willie Belle Morris, Miss Nettie Leslie, Miss Florence Ellis, Miss Lucile Whiddon, Miss Harriet Heath of Camilla, Ga., Mrs. Fred Hollis, Mrs. George Young.
